GIPS Certification

Groupama Asset Management is once again GIPS certified

Every year, independent Auditors carry out an audit of Groupama Asset Management to verify that the Company complies with the GIPS (Global Investment Performance Standards). These standards make it possible for investors to compare the past performance of the funds managed by management companies.

Accordingly, Groupama AM has just received GIPS Certification, attesting to the fact that, as at 31 December 2009, the Company complied with the international standards for calculating and presenting the performance of assets under management on behalf of third parties.

This certification is an additional advantage which will help the company's development, particularly on the international scene.
